

The Hidden Art of Barnsley

Competition Brief: Create a map showing the route travelled by Thomas Witlam Atkinson and his family between 1848 and 1854.

Prize: The individual or team who produces the winning entry will receive a prize of £50 and their entry will be displayed in the Cooper Gallery as part of 'The Hidden Art of Barnsley' exhibition to be held at the gallery from June-August 2014. The judges may award other prizes at their discretion.

Entry Specification

- Entries must be approximately A1 size (approx. 84 x 59cm or 33 x 23.3 inches). They may be on paper, cardboard, canvas, fabric or other suitable material. BAYD will supply each entrant/team with a sheet of A1 paper upon request.
- A numbered list of some of the locations which Thomas and his family visited is included in this pack. Entrants may choose whether to include some or all of these locations on their map. Entrants may include other locations which Thomas and his family visited if they wish to do their own research.
- Entrants may choose how to label and/or represent locations and/or regions. Entrants may use a key if they wish. If a key is used, it should be on the map itself, rather than on a separate sheet.
- The map should be an artistic work showing the varied regions Thomas travelled through. It is therefore not necessary for the map to be to scale or for locations on it to be marked with a high level of accuracy. It is up to entrants to decide whether or not to link locations together.
- It is up to entrants to decide what medium/media to use to create their entry. However, entrants should bear in mind that entries must be suitable for display on a wall.
- All artwork on entries must be original artwork done by the entrant/team members named on the entry form submitted with that entry.
- Credit will be given for creativity, artistic skill and effective use of the information in this pack.
